Unions Deliver Mixed Verdict on Health Sector Tentative Agreement

Saskatchewan's three health sector provider unions – SGEU Health Providers, CUPE Local 5430 and SEIU-West – held ratification votes on the contract offer of the Saskatchewan Association of Health Organizations (SAHO), representing health-sector employers. The unions shared the results with their members on April 18th.

Members of SGEU Health Providers voted to accept the contract offer.

Members of CUPE Local 5430 voted to accept the contract offer.

Members of SEIU-West voted to reject the contract offer.

The offer included a five year contract with pay increases of 0%, 0%, 1%, 2% and 2%. The three unions are currently working together to determine next steps, including notifying SAHO.
